Staff Recommendation for Expenditure of Funds from the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act

On Wednesday, February 25, staff for the Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) released a list of projects that could be developed using $1.2 billion in funds available to the state under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA), commonly known as the economic stimulus package.

Commission action on the staff-recommended list was delayed until Thursday, March 5 so that Texas Transportation Commissioners and TxDOT staff could continue working with local, state and federal officials to identify and evaluate additional projects. As a result of those discussions, TxDOT staff added six projects to its February 25 draft recommendation for economic stimulus spending.

On March 5, TxDOT staff recommended allocating $1.2 billion in stimulus funds for 29 construction projects across the state. Most of the projects would be built with financial support from other agencies and resources. As a result of pooling other funds with ARRA money, stimulus-related construction would build more than $2.6 billion in new transportation projects for the state.

TxDOT staff also recommended that the commission renew its support for roadway and bridge maintenance and rehabilitation projects valued at more than $500 million. The list of maintenance projects advanced with economic stimulus funds was amended to include 10 additional projects in counties classified by the federal government as economically distressed. At the staff's recommendation, 22 projects previously identified for stimulus money would now be funded through TxDOT's maintenance program for Fiscal Year 2010. The projects will be let to contract by September 2009.

The projects recommended by TxDOT's staff were selected from billions of dollars of projects identified by local and state leaders as eligible for economic stimulus spending. The ARRA requires projects to be "ready-to-go" in the immediate future.

The Federal Highway Administration instructed state transportation officials to give priority to projects that can be completed quickly, projects that are in economically distressed areas, and projects that maximize job creation and economic benefit.

TxDOT staff and local officials agreed on six criteria for evaluating mobility projects that would receive stimulus funds: (1) projects that improve the safety of the transportation system; (2) projects on corridors of statewide significance or regional priority; (3) projects that leverage or pool resources; (4) projects that create long-term economic benefit to the communities and region that they serve; (5) projects in areas that are economically distressed; and (6) fair and equitable distribution of projects around the state. The priority and preference selection criteria described in the ARRA and the FHWA guidelines were subsequently used in the evaluation process to develop the lists of projects recommended for funding under the ARRA.

New construction projects:

The following construction projects were added to the February 25 TxDOT staff recommendation:

- New lanes for FM 1460 near Round Rock
- New bridge over IH 35 in Buda
- New overpass for SH 6 in Bryan/College Station
- Reconstruct the Joe Fulton Corridor in Corpus Christi
- New lanes and interchange for Loop 20 (Cuatro Vientos) in Laredo
- New lanes for US 59 in Texarkana

These six projects, requiring $59.8 million in economic stimulus funds would leverage more than $100 million from other sources. Four of the projects are in counties classified by the federal government as economically distressed.

TxDOT staff were able to add these projects by working with local authorities to leverage resources and modify projects across the state.
